Masked Men Board Ship, Attack Crew

OLD POINT COMFORT, VA., June 4.—A party of masked men boarded the shipping board steamer Mitchell in Hampton Roads today and attacked the crew, badly injuring eight and slightly injuring several others. A naval detachment answered the Mitchell's call for help, but before the bluejackets arrived, the attackers escaped.

Chief Officer Henry Leon Dodge, temporarily in command of the Mitchell, in the absence of the officer, said the raiders announced that they were strikers, and proposed to "drive everybody from American ships." Dodge said the leader of the crowd appeared to be an American and that they apparently sought particularly the

TULSA TO REBUILD HOMES FOR NEGROES

A general view of Tulsa from the steeple of the Catholic church on top of Standpipe Hill, which was threatened by flames from the burning negro district.

One of the most serious race riots in the history of the nation began recently in Tulsa, Okla., shown above, when the negro population heard rumors that Dick Rowland, a negro, suspected of attacking an orphan white girl, was to be lynched by the whites. Scores of negroes and whites were wounded and several killed in the first day of trouble. The negro quarters of the city lie in the northeast section and forms a letter "L", extending a quarter of a mile east and west and from half a mile to a mile north and south.

One of the first moves made by Tulsa and national guard officials in halting the race riots was to take into custody all the negroes found in the streets and place them in the convention hall, shown in the picture, hall park and other places under guard to protect them and prevent further trouble in the negro quarter. In spite of this precaution, the rioting and gun fire continued. Gov. J. B. A. Robertson, of Oklahoma, shown in the group, declared martial law in the Tulsa district when the rioting grew serious and placed Adj. General C. F. Barrett in charge of the situation.

TULSA, OKLA., June 4.—Homes for thousands of negroes made destitute by the race rioting here this week, will be rebuilt by Tulsa business men, but a general plan of reconstruction was still being sought today by members of the citizens' committee of welfare named for that purpose, and out of the burning of the negro section the negroes will profit in one respect, for a business interest of the city are determined that a better and more sanitary section will be erected.

Some prominent men objecting to rearing a negro settlement on the ashes of the area destroyed and suggest that be brought in the northern section of the city where homes could be built with a view to city planning. Judge L. J. Martin, chairman of the committee, declared that 1,000 Tulsa men should volunteer to build a negro home. He said it would require not more than $1,000 for a home. The relief work among the negroes was thoroughly organized today and most of them had left the detention camp at the fair grounds. White employers gave them shelter at their homes and business places.

Property Loss In Millions

DENVER, COLO., June 4.—The first information that there had been loss of life at Pueblo in the flood there was received today. One report from railroad sources said there had been "considerable loss of life and property," while a telegram to the Denver Times contained a statement that "hundreds of lives have been lost." The Times announced it could not verify the report.

The dispatch to the Times said the deaths occurred in the Grove district, populated mainly by foreigners. Residents of the quarter had been warned that the flood was coming, but did not leave their small frame houses in time to avoid the on-rushing water, the dispatch said.

Newspaper men in Denver, who were familiar with the location of the district were skeptical about such a heavy loss of life. They pointed out that there were many high hills near the quarter on which people might take refuge.

Pueblo is without electric lights, power and water pressure, according to the reports that reached the Denver office of the Western Union Telegraph company. Other reports said fire started by lightning was burning in various parts of the city and that due to the lack of water pressure the fires were hard to control.

A heavy rain began falling at Smalltown, 15 miles west of Pueblo, at 3 o'clock. Virtually no rain fell in the city itself, but at 5 o'clock the Arkansas river had gone over its banks and by 10 p. m. every basement from the river to the heart of the business district had been flooded. At 11 o'clock the water was rising steadily and then suddenly the wires went down and Pueblo was isolated.

Meager reports coming in through small railroad station towns between Denver and Pueblo express the fear that there has been considerable loss of life. No confirmation is possible, however.

In Denver a heavy rain mixed with bursts of hail turned the streets into roaring torrents for a time yesterday. The rain continued all night, but damage in Denver was slight.

PUEBLO, COLO., June 4.—Early this morning the flood began to recede. At 3 o'clock it still was raining and several small fires were ablaze.

DENVER, COLO., June 4.—The flood which inundated parts of Pueblo, Colorado, last night when the Arkansas river went on a rampage due to heavy rains, was receding today, according to word received here. Damage estimated at millions of dollars was done by heavy rains and floods in eastern and central Colorado and meager reports coming in from the affected districts placed the loss of life at four.

Cincy Suburbs Flooded By A Downpour

CINCINNATI, O., June 4.—Hundreds of basements of factories and homes in the eastern suburbs and in Norwood were being airtight and cleaned today as a result of the heaviest downpour of rain experienced in this county in several years. So great was the volume of water that fell within a few minutes last night that the sewers were unable to cope with it. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars. It was estimated today. Norwood bore the brunt of the storm, but there was damage in Oakley, Hyde Park, Avondale, Bond Hill, Pleasant Ridge, Mount Washington and other districts. Trees were stripped of their branches and shrubbery was left upon the ground. Telephone and electric light service in that district was crippled for several hours.

TOLEDO, O., June 4.—The Rev. Father Anthony Gorek, pastor of a New Chicago, Indiana, parish, John Dantek and Paul Bartkowski, all indicted in connection with the Toledo $1,000,000 post office robbery, were brought to Toledo from Chicago this morning.

Paulok and Bartkowski live in Indiana Harbor, Ind. The three will be arraigned before Judge Kilbitt in federal court this afternoon.

Healthy Pulse

The beating of the pulse indicates the state of the health, and the number of beats varies according to age. An infant's pulse goes 140 to the minute; that of a child of seven, 80; an adult up to sixty years of age would have a pulse beating 70 to the minute; at seventy, 60 beats would be considered normal. If an adult's pulse persists in beating more than 70 times per minute, disease may be looked for. This quickening indicates that the body is feeding on itself, that there is fever or inflammation somewhere. As the number of beats rises, the chances of improvement decrease. A pulse remaining over 70 for months, accompanied by a cough, is a practically certain indication of lung trouble. There is no need to worry if your pulse wavers between 60 and 70; you can be just as healthy at the lower figure as at the higher.

Sensitive Soul

Timothy Carlson was a very sensitive man. More than once at a harsh word he had forsaken profitable work and gone home for sympathy to his wife. One morning Tim started out to help Harley Boggs, who had bought a new stump-pulling machine and was preparing to clear a field. Toward noon Timothy came back. Mrs. Carlson sighed and waited sympathetically for the explanation. "I just couldn't stand it," said Timothy, rubbing his jaw. "When I see that stump puller twist their roots out it reminded me so of the times I went to the dentist to get back teeth extracted. The first thing I knew I was limp as a rag, and I just ached all over and had to quit."

The body was found under a bush near Valley Junction, a suburb.

Salt Not Necessary to Life.

Whether a man's taste for salt is acquired, hereditary or elemental is a matter for discussion, and for discussion that comes to no conclusion, but that all so-called civilized men and nearly all so-called uncivilized men without salt is a fact. That man can live without salt is a fact that is taken from mines or from the sea by evaporation seems to have been established, but to take salt from a man who has used it all his life is to give him considerable trouble. That trouble may be mental or physical and it may be both. Doctors, as usual, will not agree.

HOW ONE FEELS TOWARD A CERTAIN CLASS OF PUTTER—BY BRIGGS

Many Die In Colorado Floods

Early today rain was reported to be falling steadily throughout eastern Colorado.

All wire communication out of Pueblo has been cut off since last night. According to a message received at the offices of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company here from its operator at Larkspur, Colorado, water in the Union Station at Pueblo, which stood at nine feet, six inches at ten o'clock last night, had receded to three feet, six inches at 4 o'clock this morning.

The message said parts of Pueblo were piled with driftwood and derailed railroad equipment and that the downtown quarter was covered with two feet of mud.

The first train to reach Denver from Pueblo today arrived at 8 a. m., nearly 12 hours late. It left Pueblo just as the flood waters were beginning to overflow levees and was held up at Colorado Springs. Passengers described the flood as the worst they had ever witnessed.

Terrible Havoc Wrought By Floods

From all over the part of Colorado lying east of the Rocky Mountains, but with the heaviest damage and probable loss of life reported from Pueblo, where several fires still were reported burning early today, came messages telling of terrible havoc wrought by the floods.

Early estimates of the damage in Pueblo alone fixed the figure at more than four million dollars. The message received from Larkspur gave the operator's opinion that there has been "considerable loss of life and property" at Pueblo.

At Frederick, Colorado, three feet of water in the main street was reported; at Greeley, Fort Collins, and Loveland all wires were down and the towns were without electric power as the result of the flooding of the power plant at Loveland. Between Denver and Boulder a large area of farm land was inundated with the damage estimated at $100,000.

Houses were swept away at Lafayette and hundreds of head of livestock were drowned when Coal Creek went over its banks. At Marshall all night long the residents remained up and prepared to flee, with bomb signals arranged, in fear that the great dam of the Farmers' Reservoir and Irrigation Company, three miles above the town, would break.

PUEBLO, COLO., June 4.—(By the Associated Press).—National guardsmen are patrolling Pueblo early today, permitting no one to enter the section of the city flooded by waters from the Arkansas river, while several fires, started by lightning, raged unchecked in several parts of the city.

All telegraph and telephone communication was lost at 9:10 o'clock when the flood filled many of the business houses to a depth of six feet. Eighteen families were reported rescued from the lowlands and one woman reported her husband had been swept from her sight in the flood waters, while attempting to escape.

The Pueblo Star Journal, the afternoon daily newspaper, had four feet of water on the first floor, according to a printer, who waded his way out.

Fire Breaks Out In Stricken Town

About 1:30 a. m., lightning set fire to another building, the identity of which could not be learned because of the flood. The flooded district includes the railroad yards and station, traction, gas and electric light plants.

Several fires broke out early in the evening from undetermined causes. The Hamilton's Feed Company building was gutted. The Big Four Auto Parts Company and several small houses were destroyed. The labor hall was gutted. The King Lumber Company suffered heavy fire loss and another big fire broke out about midnight in the central part of the city.

Heavy loss from the floods also was reported from Florence, an oil town, 45 miles from Pueblo, near Canon City, where the loss will run close to a million dollars, according to conservative estimate.

An old time resident says the flood will exceed in damage the disastrous flood of 1894.

Numerous Towns Inundated

DENVER, COLO., June 4.—Continued heavy rains this morning in eastern and central Colorado gave little hope for relief from the floods which yesterday swept those sections.

Message reports indicated a loss running into the millions, with the heaviest loss at Pueblo, where a large part of the business section and several residential districts were inundated by waters from the Arkansas river. The known loss of life remained at four.

The situation early today was: Pueblo inundated and cut off from wire communication for hours. Private news dispatches played less about $1,000,000. Marshall, a town of 200 inhabitants, threatened by break in the Marshall lake dam.

Louisville inundated, several houses, other buildings washed away. Loveland, dikes of lake broken and parts of town inundated floods put out of commission electric power plant, from which country towns get their light and power.

Scores Flee From Flood Waters

A cloud burst at Swallows, 15 miles west of Pueblo, at 3 o'clock yesterday, two hours later had sent the Arkansas river on a rampage. By 8:00 o'clock it had overflowed into the town, inundated the business section and forced scores of families to flee from their homes in the lowlands. Eighteen families were rescued in boats and boats also were used to rescue several families from the federal building. Damage to the post-office alone was officially estimated at $600,000.

Five feet of water was reported standing in the streets of Pueblo in a message early this morning. A Western Union operator remained at his key in the Pueblo operating room sending a news dispatch concerning the flood until the flood waters had crept around his ankles.

At Marshall, the 200 inhabitants spent the night in their homes, fully dressed, ready to flee when a signal of bomb explosions gave warning that the dam had broken, releasing 800 acres of water 63 feet deep. The dam began to weaken yesterday afternoon and efforts to lessen the strain on the structure by releasing some of the impounded water were rendered futile by the continued heavy flow from other streams and continued rain.

The spillway dam of the North Sterling reservoir broke yesterday, emptying in Pawnee Creek and causing the death of Mrs. Carl Davis and baby child.

The other children are missing. Davis was rescued from the flood, but is perhaps fatally injured.

Roaring Torrent Mile Wide

At Lafayette, Coal Creek swept over its banks and inundated part of the town, swept over acres of farm land and drowned several hundred cattle, according to reports. Sand Creek, ordinarily a dry ravine, near Colorado Springs, became a roaring torrent 15 feet deep and a third of a mile wide.

All highway bridges between Colorado Springs and Pueblo were reported washed out. On the Boulder highway, nearly 300 automobilists were trapped. Boulder and Denver were caught by the rain and forced to spend the night in their cars or abandon them and wade through several feet of water to farm houses. Irrigation ditches were overflowing and it was feared that vast damage would be done to the crops in the rich irrigated lands of Weld county.

Residents Stay Up Prepared To Flee

Train service in Eastern Colorado and other eastern slope regions was seriously disrupted by the floods. At 5 o'clock this morning no report of train arrivals from the south had been received.

Trains from northern points were delayed, but those from the east were running mainly on schedule.

Residents of Marshall, who remained up all night to be ready to leave on a few minutes' notice in case the dam of the reservoir above the city broke, said over the telephone this morning that water was running through the streets and that most of the householders had moved their goods out of the flooded region.

Rain was still falling over Eastern Colorado at 5 o'clock in a steady downpour, reports said.

Mexican Recognition

His Grande wants General Obregon has traveled extensively in the United States and one visit was given a special military escort so that he could see all the military preparations being made by the American army for service overseas. The trip impressed General Obregon a great deal. Señor Paul, the foreign minister, was a member of Carranza's special commission which sought to adjust relations with the United States first at New London and later at Atlantic City. It is known that the late Secretary Franklin K. Lane held Paul in high esteem and once said that if matters had been left to Paul's discretion and if Carranza had not been so indifferent to Paul's advice, Mexican-American relations would long ago have been smoothed out. Paul is descended from a distinguished Italian family diplomat.

Don't Want to Accept Conditions. The Washington Government is eager to get on a working basis with the Mexican Government but is not inclined to allow its impatience to destroy its programme of what should be adopted by the Mexican authorities before recognition can be extended. The Mexicans do not like the idea of being required to accept conditions. They have the impression that recognition is something spontaneous—a judgment by a foreign power on the basis of the constitution at the best of a fact that if law and order have been established and foreign governments established and foreign governments must get Congress to co-operate.

Oil Rights the Stumbling Block. One big outstanding cause of the estrangement of the two governments is the question of oil rights. The Mexican authorities have indicated privately their unwillingness to ignore that portion of the Mexican constitution which would confiscate American properties but that isn't enough for our government. A practical program which will carry confidence with the American Government must be worked out. The exact formula is something that is puzzling most everybody here. Published reports had it that the Mexican executive would be asked to abrogate the famous article twenty-seven of the Mexican constitution but it is not possible from a Mexican viewpoint to surrender power on the point for the oil executive to amend the constitution at the best of a fact that if law and order have been established and foreign governments established and foreign governments must get Congress to co-operate.

think the Mexican executive and Congress have been locally elected, that is sufficient for recognition. Want Mexico to Live Up to Agreement. In some cases, the United States has indeed recognized governments on less evidence than that. But the case of Mexico today stands on its own bottom. It is the intention of the Harding administration to get indisputable evidence of the capacity of the Mexican Government to live up to international obligations and the only way to get such evidence is to ask the Mexican Government itself to furnish it in black and white. A treaty or protocol may be found unnecessary but an exchange of letters or notes between the two governments would probably serve the purpose of the Washington Government just as well. These assurances must however be all comprehensive.

The broad theory on which the American Government is proceeding is this: Mexico has indeed a locally elected Government and from that viewpoint is entitled to favorable consideration but it is the Government capable of fulfilling international obligations, capable of adjusting equitably the many international points in dispute between the two countries? That is something for the outside power to decide and such a judgment is made assurances can be asked for and given which will clear up any doubts and which also can be used as a basis for discussion in the event that at some future time another Mexican administration not so friendly to the American points of contention come into office. The prospect for a favorable outcome of the negotiations going on at Mexico City is bright but nothing tangible can be announced as yet by either Government as it is the method and not the substance which is causing the delay in agreement.

EMPEROR OF COCHIN-CHINA SITS ON GOLDEN THRONE

His majesty, Khai-Dinh, on his throne of gold, in center between his "four pillars of the empire."

What are believed to be the first pictures taken or published in recent years of the royal family and dignitaries of the empire of Cochin-China have just reached this country. The one above is among the most interesting. It shows the emperor, Khai-Dinh, seated in the throne room of the royal palace at Hue, the capital, between his four ministers, referred to as the "four pillars of the empire." The emperor is sitting on a throne of solid gold. The royal garb worn by the emperor and his aides is covered with gold and costly gems.

Seek Fusion With Germany

PARIS, June 4.—Pan-Germans are striving to organize in eastern Hungary a movement favorable to fusion with Germany, says a dispatch from Budapest to the Hungarian press here. They are particularly active at Magyar-Oras, 15 miles southeast of Pressburg, where manifestations in favor of union with Germany have occurred.

Hungarian newspapers are declared to be commenting prominently and hopefully regarding the position of Hungarians to President Harding asking him to intervene favorably for a plebiscite in provinces separated from Hungary by the Trianon treaty with the allies.

President To Visit Knox

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—President and Mrs. Harding left here at 5:30 this morning by motor for a week-end visit at the Pennsylvania home of Senator Knox, near Valley Forge. Brigadier General Sawyer, the president's physician, and Secretary Christian also were in the party, which planned a picnic luncheon en route, on the bank of the Susquehanna river.

Executed By Firing Squad

LIMERICK, IRELAND, June 4.—Thomas Keane, sentenced to death by a court martial for improperly possessing arms and having taken part in an attack upon the police at Slinlad, was executed by a firing squad in the barracks square here this morning.

Keane met his fate without a quiver. As the execution was being carried out large crowds outside the barracks offered prayers and sang hymns.

Big Increase In Deficiency Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—Congress was not in session today, both senate and house having adjourned yesterday until Monday. The senate late yesterday passed the deficiency bill carrying a total of $155,000,000, an increase of $55,000,000 over the measure as passed by the house. Included in the bill was an appropriation of $75,000,000 for the shipping board, which represented a net increase of $20,000,000 over the amount given the board by the house.

Other increases were $53,000,000 for various items recommended by the appropriations committee, $12,250,000 added by amendment for soldier hospital projects, $200,000 for the speedway or Broadview Hospital at Chicago and $750,000 for the Dawson Springs, Ky., sanitarium.

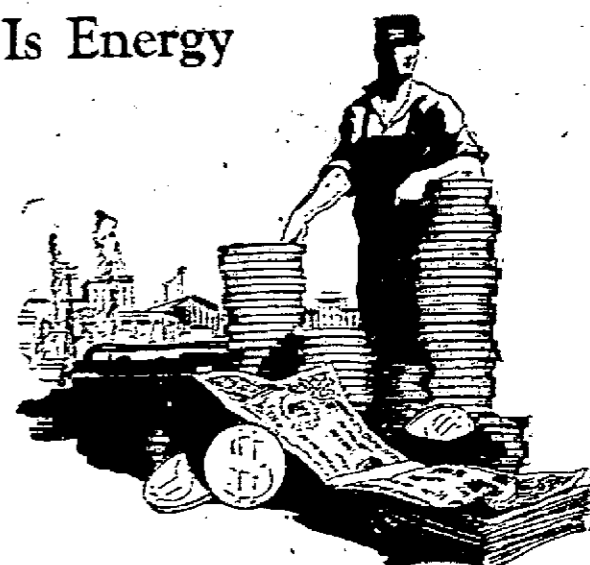

with him in amending the constitution, so while President Obregon might be disposed to agree there isn't so much certainty of favorable action by the Mexican congress.

There still remains a way, however, to get around the difficulty. It is a matter of doubt whether Article Twenty-seven in the Mexican constitution is itself valid with respect to American rights held prior to the adoption of the constitution. The supreme court of Mexico hasn't passed on that point yet. It could happen that a supreme court decision would clear up the whole matter and thus render inoperative the troublesome clause.

Broad Theory of U. S.

The broad theory on which the American Government is proceeding is this: Mexico has indeed a locally elected Government and from that viewpoint is entitled to favorable consideration but it is the Government capable of fulfilling international obligations, capable of adjusting equitably the many international points in dispute between the two countries? That is something for the outside power to decide and such a judgment is made assurances can be asked for and given which will clear up any doubts and which also can be used as a basis for discussion in the event that at some future time another Mexican administration not so friendly to the American points of contention come into office. The prospect for a favorable outcome of the negotiations going on at Mexico City is bright but nothing tangible can be announced as yet by either Government as it is the method and not the substance which is causing the delay in agreement.

Money Is Energy

THE money you earn represents time and effort. Extravagance in spending it means wasted energy. Thrift has a double benefit. It conserves both money and effort.

Many people reach advanced years with nothing to show for a life time of work, simply because they have not learned the importance of Thrift.

Don't let your effort go for nothing. Put aside regularly a part of the money you earn and build for the future.

Austrian Officers Are Acquitted

VIENNA, June 4.—Major General Joseph Hummel formerly of the Austrian army and eleven other ex-officers, who were placed on trial before a special court here Wednesday on the charge of having committed treason in connection with the recent attempt of Emperor Charles to remain the Hungarian throne, were acquitted by a verdict rendered late yesterday.

The ex-officers were charged with having organized legionary troops and placing themselves in the service of Hungary in pursuance of a plan to restore the Hapsburg dynasty in Austria.

The four men, whose bodies were received yesterday from Columbus, were Tony Wroblewski, the first Toledo-born killed in the war; Vernon McCune, John P. McNeary and Arthur Daly, who also died in service overseas.

The services were conducted by Wroblewski, McCune and Daly post-American Legion.

German Cabinet Temporarily Acceptable

BERLIN, June 4.—As a result of inter-party conferences, the cabinet led by Dr. Joseph Wirth was expected to become the beneficiary of an indirect vote of confidence in the Reichstag today. This was looked upon here as an eleventh hour escape from what threatened to be disapproval of the new government.

The result of this maneuver is that the Wirth cabinet will, by indirect action, receive the Reichstag's approval for the time being. Parliamentary leaders were outspoken last night, however, in declaring that the new ministry could not possibly thrive indefinitely on such "circumvention."

A Danger. A five-year-old, taking her first bath without assistance, and scrubbing vigorously, said: "Mother, all you have to do is wash me when I get too clean."

FRENCH BRIDE SEEKS TO ANNUL MARRIAGE TO PREACHER WHO WAS GIVEN TAR COAT

Ex-Rev. Bouck White and his bride, Mrs. Andree Emille Simon White.

A story of hesitancy, hope and then blasted dream is told by Mrs. Andree Emille Simon White, young French girl bride who has begun action to annul her marriage to ex-Rev. Bouck White, radical preacher. White's cruel treatment of the girl in his house on the top of Marlboro mountain, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., caused a band of neighbors to drag him from his home, horse whip him and apply a coat of carbolic acid.

HAD ALL THE MAKINGS. Ship Named President Harding. BUCKY'S A ton of rubins, 800 pounds of pines and other liquor (German passenger liner Kaiser Wilhelm II) has been renamed President Harding. ## MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Hughes, residing on Route 2, near here, recently, told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Hughes said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on. 'My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me. 'It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped. 'Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others.' If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Hughes mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years. Try Cardui! Your druggist sells it. NC-138

To Dedicate New Building

There will be no preaching at the First Evangelical church on Sunday. Children's Day will be observed in the morning at 9:30 new time.

Rev. S. Lindemeyer, left today for Lorain, O., where he is to dedicate a Sunday school building on Sunday. He expects to return Monday evening.

Spend Enjoyable Evening

It is better to be a C. E. than to wish you were. So thought those who learned about the joyful time which the Layal C. E. of the First Christian church enjoyed last night from 7:30 to 10:00. The immediate purpose of the gathering was to give a promised banquet or treat to the winners of a contest which had been running for some time in which the losers were to entertain the winners. The membership was divided in three parts, each division having a captain and other officers to assist, the main object being to secure the most points by getting new members and also getting the old ones to attend.

Nickle and J. C. Murphy were the captains and Miss Johnson won out with Mr. Murphy a close second. Last night proved that both Mr. Murphy and Miss Nickle were good losers when they put on a splendid entertainment consisting of games, etc., which was concluded with refreshments of delicious strawberries. All in all the winners seemed to be thoroughly satisfied with the treat, in fact they were so elated that some of the losers suggested that they challenge the other captains for another contest, but Miss Johnson remembered that her side had only won by a few points and very quickly stopped the enthusiastic outburst. The C. E.'s are a lively bunch and the results of the contest can be noted at every meeting of the society.

CALIFORNIA VS. PRINCETON TODAY

PRINCETON, N. J., June 4.—Princeton draws her 1921 rowing season to a close this afternoon with the California race on Lake Carnegie. For the westerners the contest is merely a beginner, since they faced more than two more weeks of intensive practice for the Poughkeepsie regatta on June 22.

Both crews are evenly matched for today's race from the advance data that can be gathered. California outweighs the Tigers over four pounds to a man, but Princeton's record thus far, with victories over the Navy, Yale, Harvard and Cornell, puts her in an enviable position. The time trials have been practically identical, but neither crew has been tested by a watch over the entire distance of one and seven-eighths miles.

Baptist Meetings Are Being Well Attended

"The Marriage of the Lamb" and "The Eternal Glory of the Redeemed" will be the subjects of the Sunday morning and evening messages at the First Baptist church by Dean W. W. Fugh of the National Bible Institute of Philadelphia.

The messages on the Book of Revelation given each evening this week have been creating a new interest in the study of this wonderful book of prophecy. Prof. Hugh showed last night, from the books of Daniel and Revelation, that the fruit of the self-will in this evil age will be, by God's permissive will, the willful king, the man of sin, Satan's king and man's ideal man, a man who will be Satan incarnate, even as Jesus Christ, God's King, is God incarnate. Ever since Satan tempted Adam and Eve to exalt themselves by believing his lie rather than the word of God, Prof. Hugh stated that the devil has been seeking to regain control over the world by getting control of the rulers of the world. But Satan's method of rule is always malevolent because he hates and seeks to destroy all of his subjects and the result of his attempt to rule the world through one man, the Anti-Christ, to whom Satan will give his throne, his power and great authority, will be the complete overthrow of the devil's power on earth. God's King, Prof. Hugh explained, will set up a kingdom on earth which can not be overthrown, because of its service and character. Its source is the living God Who can not lie, and Who loves and seeks to save and bless all mankind.

and who will always please our Lord in seeking the welfare of others. Prof. Hugh will speak tonight on the "Two Babylons, Ecclesiastical and Political."

The American Bible Version

By John Collins Jackson

The American Version of the Sacred Scriptures stands as the latest and the greatest and the best of the Bible's translations. It is the product of thirty years of the world's best scholarship. England, Germany, France, Holland, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, all contributed indirectly to its formation. As is generally known, the commonly used Bible, called the King James Version, was made over 300 years ago. Living languages constantly change. New words come into existence. Many old words go out of common use. Other words acquire entirely new meanings.
New dictionaries have to be made to keep up with these changes. More than forty dictionaries of the English language came into existence between the birth of the Authorized Version, in 1611, and the English-
American Revised Version, in 1885.
This was reason enough for revising the Bible; but there were many other reasons equally important. It was a common guide-book for a traveler in a foreign land were printed in family words, nobody would want it.
How much more should the divine guide-book be accurate in its language. Let one instance out of hundreds suffice to illustrate how many words of the English Bible had changed their meaning. To prevent in our use of the word today, means to hinder. But that is not its meaning at all in I. Thessalonians 4, 15. There it means to go before, which meaning is preserved in the New Version by our word precede. Many words of the King James Version have gone out of use with us. I challenge any one who reads this article to define afford the word leasg, found in Psalm 4, 2. But everybody knows what the word leasg means, which reveals the writer's thought, in the Revised Version.
But there were many more reasons

PRINCESS MARY SOON TO BE BRIDE

OF HEIR TO SERBIAN THRONE. REPORT

Princess Mary and Prince Alexander.
It is stated in reliable quarters that the forthcoming visit to England of Serbia's prince regent, Alexander, is to complete arrangements for his marriage with Princess Mary, the only daughter of King George.
The marriage is regarded as a diplomatic move on the part of England to increase its influence over Serbian destinies.

GOLF OR A

SERMON?

Of course you need recreation, plenty of it—but your soul needs culture, too. It can best be nurtered by regular church attendance.
Do not deceive yourself. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Neglect the things of religion at your peril.
You would not live in a community without a church. Give it your support—your time, your brain, your thoughts as well as your money. Come to church Sunday.

Temple Theatre Sunday afternoon.
The usual "first Sunday" lecture was not arranged for because of a Bible Students Tri-State Convention that ber of local Bible students expect to be in attendance at Ashland all day Sunday. T. H. Thornton of Philadelphia, Dr. J. P. Wells of Painesville, Ky., and W. H. Spring of this city will address the students.

IRONTON ROTES GOING TO CHILICOTHE

IRONTON, June 4—The Rotary Club held its bi-weekly luncheon at The Marling at noon today with a visitor or two in attendance.
Twenty members of the club signified their intention of going to Chilicthe on June 20th to attend a golf meet, banquet and meeting. Four new names were proposed for membership: Leo Brumberg, Robert Blount, O. H. Schwellhart and T. H. Brown.
The club decided to wear white hats and trousers on the Chillicothe trip.

THINGS SEEN IN PORTSMOUTH

A well known Hilltop woman entertaining a flock of kiddies with a uke.
Two young couples sitting on the High School steps at a late hour spooning.
A girl playing a piano while a couple next door danced to the music.
A bench warmer in the Industrial League asking auto drivers to bring him to town and he was refused.
Boys begging to paint little work for a well-known Hilltop girl. To settle the argument her father painted it.
Man carrying dog to his Sedan. It was raining. Lucky dog.
Two women staging fight on Scioto bridge.
Man past 70 riding bicycle in downtown section.
Couple quarrel after dinner flivvered on Chillicothe street. Couple refused to get back in car.
City official asking reporter who the marketmaster was.
Prominent woman borrowing nickel to pay fare on car. Left pocketbook at home.
Discolor.
If you allow the handles of your pearl or bone knives to remain in water they will become discolored.
Possibly.
An expert announces that there are ten causes of crime. Wonder if he lifer in the old adage that "the good die young" is one of them.

A breakfast or lunch you will surely like

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS

Whenever old fight fans gather and discuss the big fights they have seen, the names of the champions of the world are sure to come up. One of the most famous of these is the fight between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain, which took place in 1889, and which was a very close and exciting one. Sullivan was the champion of the world at the time, and Kilrain was a very strong contender. The fight was a very close one, and Sullivan won by a narrow margin. This was a very famous fight, and it was one of the best of the Sullivan-Kilrain series. ## 250 Athletes Entered In Conference Meet

CHICAGO, June 4.—Two hundred and fifty athletes representing the twenty-first western conference track and field meet, with fair weather, promising a fast track on which records might be broken, but cool lake breezes threatening to stiffen the muscles of the runners.

Over In Four Rounds--Dempsey

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 3.—Jack Dempsey today broke silence on the possible outcome of his fight July 2 when a friend asked him point blank if he would knock out Carpentier.

Illinois Tackles Michigan Today

CHICAGO, June 4.—Baseball teams of the University of Illinois and University of Michigan clash this afternoon on Illinois field in the game which will either clinch the western conference championship for Illinois or postpone the title award until Monday when Michigan plays the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

CARPENTIER HAS HAD INTERESTING CAREER; MANY KNOCKOUTS

Georges Carpentier has had an interesting career since he started fighting at the age of twelve. He has won many fights and has been a champion of the world. He is a very famous fighter and is one of the best of the Carpentier-Dempsey series.

Carpentier Speeds Up Training

MAHASSET, N. Y., June 4.—A full day's training program was ordered today for Georges Carpentier to offset his lack of work yesterday. In his morning road work he showed some of his real speed and afterward spent quite a time wrestling with his partner. He then went to the gymnasium for almost an hour and worked vigorously.

P. H. S. At Big Track Meet

PORTSMOUTH high school's track team left this morning in machines for Ashland, where they will participate in the tri-state track meet held this afternoon on the Ashland field. Coach McComb believes that he has some able track men this year and fully expects to return with several firsts.

Yes, Speaking Of Home Runs

NEW YORK, June 4.—Two American league batting records were created and two major marks equaled in a slugging match between Philadelphia and Detroit at Philadelphia yesterday. The Athletics pounded out seven home runs, surpassing the mark of five set by the New York team two years ago. Incidentally the Athletics equaled the major league mark of seven set by Detroit when it was a National league team in 1905.

Dempsey Settles Down To Work

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 4.—Intensive training was resumed by Jack Dempsey today after a lay-off of four days. Refreshed and in a spirited mood, Dempsey today showed a different attitude as a result of his vacation. He was eager to settle down to work. Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, said, however, that he may be obliged to call another halt if Dempsey reaches the peak of his fighting condition too rapidly.

In Ruby Mountains

In the Humboldt national forest there are no movies there, no jazz bands to split wide open the quiet of the night, but just a bit of unspoiled wilderness where one can hunt with camera, fish, climb not too rugged mountains or just rest to a full contentment amid interesting and restful surroundings, says the American Forestry Magazine. The gems of Ruby mountains—the lake, streams, peaks and canyons found here—are all yours to enjoy if you will but come and camp near the three lakes that nestle in the high valley amid pine-dotted meadows.

Steel Plant Trims The Central Labor Team 1 To 0

GAMES THIS WEEK

Saturday, June 4.—Seby vs. Excelsior.

The flux that has been camping on the trail of the Central Labor team ever since the opening of the Industrial League, was present, last evening, at the Seventeenth street grounds, when they lost to the Steel Plant lads by the score of 1 to 0 in a five inning game, which was cut short because of the heavy downpour that had been threatening all evening. The Steel Plant had made two more runs in their half of the sixth frame, but the heavens wept so copiously that there was no chance for the Laborites to get their turn at bat and the score reverted to the fifth inning.

Mr. Whitlatch toiled on the mound for the victors, his second start of the year and his first victory. He was hit now and then, but generally when two men were out. He was careful as usual and as slow as always, and attended to his work like the thorough performer he is. He was iced for four wallpops, and fanned one man. But he did not make a single mistake and breezed thru with a shut out in his days gone by. He seemed to be at his best in the pinches, for there were no less than three times when a hit would have proved damaging to the Steel Plant's fortune. But at these particular times Carl was the boy with the blockade stuff and easily disposed of his opponents.

The Central Labor boys introduced our old friend Jesse Lucas as their moundman, and the big fellow gave an exhibition that could hardly be improved upon, although he pulled the play that gave the Steelmen their lone run. He fanned nine batters in six innings, which goes to show he still has that curve ball at his command and speed to burn. He kept the Steelmen hopping around like a jazz band in action, and delivered two kidney blows of which Jack Dempsey would be mighty proud to land on Georges Carpenter. He hit Messrs. Staiger and Whitlatch in the identical same spot, but fortunately for the recipients he had cut down on his speed or there might have been flowers to buy. The wallpops he landed "Topsy" Staiger in the third inning blossomed into the winning run. Staiger liked to win, but he would much prefer some other way out of the dilemma than being a backstop for Lucas' slants. Lucas allowed four hits, for the two secured by Stuten and Devoss in the sixth inning will never see the light of day in the averages which will be published in Sunday's Sun-Times.

In addition to introducing Mr. Lucas, the Herder herd had two other new players, Mr. Adams, who played right and Mr. Griggs who was on second. Neither made any great impression with the willow, while Mr. Adkins pulled one throw in the sixth that had the wild man of Borneo backed off the shutters. It will not count against him in the error column. Thanks to the termination of the game in the first half of the sixth. The Steelmen made their winning run in the third inning. As stated above, Staiger, first up, was hit over the left kidney and after recovering from the blow went to first limping. Whitlatch delivered a single over second and was soon forced by Staiger's bunt hit a hop, skip and jump roller to Lucas, who had Staiger flatfooted between third and home, but instead of bluffing "Topsy" back to third, he tossed to first. Like a flash Staiger came over the plate, despite Dunham's good chuck. Eastman singled to right, but was caught stealing.

The best chance the Labor lads had men were out. Lucas singled to middle and took third on Floyd's single in the third inning. After two Smith's belt to right. Freiks, who was subbing in center, drove a vicious liner at Whitlatch, who blocked it down and tossed to first in time to retire the runner, a very pretty play.

The Steelmen made a couple of runs in the sixth, but they cannot be counted for reasons previously stated. Eastman fanned for a starter. Lewis rolled to short, but Dunham dropped Monk's assist. Stillwell fanned. Stuten beat out a chopping hit to third. Devoss hit an honest-to-goodness single to right, scoring Lewis and Stuten. Adams tossed the ball to the stands and Devoss made third easily. Staiger then rolled to short.

With two bats and no strikes on Floyd Smith in the last half of the

Earl Smith Is Traded

Third Baseman Earl Smith of the St. Louis Browns has been traded to the Washington team for Third Baseman Ellerbe of that club. The Sporting News in its last issue had the following to say of the trade: The Browns announce the trade of Outfielder Earl Smith to Washington for Infielder Frank Ellerbe, and it is understood Washington also gives an option on a pitcher in the minors to be selected. Smith was about the most reliable hitter on the St. Louis team, having batted .300 in 1920. Ellerbe is a good fielder and hitter and the only question is regarding his arm. The trade is to be completed Thursday. The trade has also been confirmed by "Bud" Gableman, Washington correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Earl Smith is a brother of Floyd Smith who plays left field for the Central Labor Council team in the Industrial League. Earl is well known in this city because of his years of residence here and has many friends who will wish him success with the Senators.

sixth the storm broke and so did the crowd. It rained hard and fast and it was seen there was no chance to continue the struggle. The crowd scattered like chaff before the wind and quite a few who had tied to play the delayed steal for home were wet to the skin by the down-pour. Louie Levi, always a welcome occupant of the press box, saved himself from a ducking only to fall in the mud in a hurried effort to reach his auto when the rain lashed off a second. It was a very graceful slide, but Louie came up with enough mud on his clothes to plaster a log cabin. The score:

AND THIS IS THE LAW

COL. HARRY E. TALBOT died at Oakwood, a village near Dayton, the other day. He was a man of deeds and affairs. By industry and enterprise he acquired a fortune of over three million dollars.

No complaint has ever been heard that he did not acquire his wealth by honest and legitimate means, nor that in connection therewith he evaded his responsibilities and obligations as a citizen. Yes, because he did have the ability and wisdom to acquire great means the law steps in, at his very death, mind you and says: This man did wrong, he should not have got substantial possession to provide in security for his wife and children, and because he did that, there shall be taken from them and his estate, the heavy toll of one hundred thousand dollars, half of which shall go to the village of his residence and half into my own coffers, so that nobody, who earned, nobody that has a right to it, shall have in and somebody will waste and spend it in the name of the people.

The man-owned nothing to the village, he had paid more of the taxes, he had spent money therein lavishly and drew others who contributed and spent after him, yet, forsooth, he is dead and therefore he must pay for the brains going out of him and therefore shall we take from his resources fifty thousand dollars.

As for the state, bah, it is just plain robbery!

WHY AND WHEREFORE

IT is officially given out at Columbus that the state is going to construct approximately fifteen miles of improved road through the townships of Holmes, Wayne, Ashland and Knox counties at an expense of near three million dollars. Federal aid has been secured in the way of the largest assemblage of road machinery and trucks that ever operated at one point and it is expected government money will also be forthcoming in huge sums.

Highway Commissioner Herick announces he will have personal charge over the work, which he proudly exults will unfold to tourists the beauty spot of Ohio.

We can not altogether approve his action and we deny in toto his claim. It seems to us a mere waste of money to devote millions to opening up a short stretch, even though it should be an unapproachable beauty spot, when Ohio has such pressing need for highways that will promote business and prosperity. And we emphatically repudiate the location of the surprising beauty spot. In scenery there is nothing to approach that which is to be found in Seneca county. Here we have a superiority in all that makes for the picturesque. We have the big rivers and the big hills, the fertile valleys and the tree crowned uplands, the exquisite dells down which balmy zephyrs whisper of the mysteries that lie in their cool shade, the broad plateaus embowered by the peaks of the weirdly different conformations and the sunrise and the sunset, the cloud and the rain that shine upon their sides and summits, phantasies and glories that mock the dreams of painters.

Add to this enchantment add the rhapsody of the birds. From your bare limb on the tall greenore the mocking bird gushes and thrills in an ecstasy of jubilation from break of morn to dewy eve, from the nearby foliage a robin sweetly warbles, on the fence a quail calls its love note to its mate and as the shadows thicken into darkness the whippoorwill makes the fields vibrant with its thrilling cry of goodnight.

If it is beauty spot the state highway commissioner wishes to unfold let him come to Seneca county, or he can spend here more money than that of Seneca county, or a retrenching national administration can devise ways of spending.

THE WORDS OF A BIG MAN

A Washington newspaper man, who is known for his kindly feeling for Woodrow Wilson told his comrades of the club, that at a movie show Wilson was getting far more applause than Harding.

Such has become the habit of all of them of belittling and deriding the ex-president that none would believe and disputation grew so heated that finally the Wilson champion dared them all to go to the movie and hear for themselves. They accepted and after attending everyone agreed the statement was absolutely true.

Thinking to please the ex-president his admirer told him of the incident. The reply he got, in all gravity was: "That was not showing proper respect for the President."

It was a remark that displayed the greatness and nobility of the character of the man. It was in utter contrast with the treatment he has received and how he was able to put out of his mind that remark of Harding's, while on his way to Washington to be inaugurated that "all Wilsonism would be eliminated from his course in office" and place him first in the house of the people, is the severest rebuke to those who have shown such bitter and relentless disrespect to him and his office and who are still lending themselves to his derision.

Some workers do not seem able to realize that the last course is to do at once what they will have to do some time.

As long as Wilson was at the helm there never was doubt as to this country's sticking to the side on which its boys fought.

The person who likes to sleep in the morning can at least point to the fact that overtook the early morn when the bird not busy.

The allies never regret to mention gold marks when speaking of reparations. It would be easy for Germany to pay the other kind.

President Harding admitted to Professor Einstein that he couldn't make out the latter's relativity theory. It is a question whether Einstein would have made out some of Harding's campaign utterances.

The Triumph Of Pure Water

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—A ray of sunshine in a cloudy sky of mortality statistics is the fact that typhoid fever is rapidly becoming a rare disease in the United States.

Some people have understood that typhoid fever is largely responsible for the spread of the prevalence of cases last fall and already. When the country is thoroughly organized for clean drinking water, typhoid will be no more in Germany or Italy, and as much feared.

In the past year there were 1,000 deaths from typhoid fever in the United States. This compares with the death rate of this disease in 1910, when it was 1.5 per 100,000 population, a rate of 2.7 per 100,000 population in 1919, and 3.5 per 100,000 population in 1920. This is a typhoid death rate of 1.5, 2.0, or even 3.0 in 100,000 people, was not unusual for a day.

In these days, European capitals were far in advance of our cities in clean water provisions. Even in 1905 New York had its death rate from typhoid fever 1.5 as compared with London 1.5, Paris 1.5, Stockholm 1.5, and Berlin 1.5. New York has brought its rate down to 1.5 and Chicago to 1.5.

A remarkable reduction in many other cities have been made as well.

Some communities for the most part have not been able to advance rapidly. Some towns have understood the importance of pure water to the extent of thinking they could not afford the precaution of clean water. For the farmer, dependent on his own farm for his water supply, he has been apt to conclude that clean water was bound to be sanitary, without giving a thought to the possibility of infection. Recently the government has been making a special effort to point out to the farmer the principles of a pure water supply.

The latest step in securing pure water to the public is a ruling by which the Public Health Service is to inspect the drinking water on trains in this country. This means that all the excursion steamers, on our rivers, and lakes, and about the coast must furnish satisfactory drinking water to passengers.

Boat Inspection

In the past some of these boats have been amazingly careless in choosing the source of their water supply. On the Great Lakes some excursion boats have been known to draw water for drinking purposes close to shore where sewage and drains were sure to contaminate it. Cases of typhoid traced to trips on these boats were common.

Boat inspection by Public Health Service officials will be similar to that now maintained on trains. Inspection of water on trains has been in effect for some time and has been successful in spite of predictions that it would not follow up a moving train to see that it did not fill its drinking tank from an unsafe source.

In another way a body now is being aimed at the typhoid germ. Typhoid inoculation kept down the epidemic which usually follows war conditions, and this precaution is usually being adopted by driftees, especially those who live in districts where typhoid is more prevalent. The trouble with inoculation is that people regard it as an infallible charm against typhoid and if they hear of an inoculated person contracting the disease, they decide that the process is worthless.

What inoculation does is to increase the person's resistance, so that he is able to throw off a much greater number of typhoid bacteria than he otherwise could. If he is exposed to food or water polluted to an extreme degree he may take the disease. A flow of our soldiers did contract typhoid in this way, but the number was insignificant compared with the number that contracted the disease in previous wars.

It is an interesting tribute to our growing wisdom that we do not trust that we would be polluted there, for we should not drink water that was the way to become the most learned of their days, and that was a warning. Only a few months ago we were always learning from the mouth of a man, a secondarily in the past.

As a matter of fact the water of these days was more apt to be dangerous than a century ago. Water had become more contaminated with certain bacteria, but the idea of purifying it and drinking it had not yet been discovered.

The Fear of Water

People who have not lately enjoyed a good swim, or a good shower, or a good bath, are likely to be a little bit nervous. When a swimmer is in the water, he is likely to be a little bit nervous. When a swimmer is in the water, he is likely to be a little bit nervous.

President Harding admitted to Professor Einstein that he couldn't make out the latter's relativity theory. It is a question whether Einstein would have made out some of Harding's campaign utterances.

Tuna's Lake
We thought the country well explored. But now says it's no lake. Right up here in Canada. There's a very pretty lake.

He says, he's silent waters. He really, now why great joy. Without a ripple on them. When he was a beautiful boy.

He waters were transparent. He could watch the fishes swim. As he often asked for them. With a fishing and crooked pin.

He says, when unsuccessful. Sometimes a stone had laid. And stuck it in the water. To make a ripple on the lake.

On this lake of placid waters. So plain and serene. He will gladly lead you to it. If you think this is a dream.
